The Terrific Two's

In January, we are learning about buildings. We have learned and discussed the various types of buildings, the activities that can be done inside them, the purposes of different types of buildings, the different types of family houses found around the world, and the materials used to construct these buildings.

The 4-year-old children collected the boxes to execute their idea of their favorite buildings.

They are also using their innovative ideas to make robots.

Along with the building study, we continue to practice rhyming words, opposites, and compound words.

Next month, we will start learning about clothing.

Sincerely,

Subhanwita Ghosh
